

Anaxsys provide breath of fresh air

Catapult Venture Managers Limited has completed a £500k investment into Anaxsys Technology Limited as part of a £1.6m fundraising round.

The investment will allow Anaxsys to complete development and undertake trials on a novel asthma detection device. The device has been designed to allow early and accurate diagnosis of the disease, especially in user groups who have difficulty with existing techniques.

Catapult provides equity capital of between £200k and £2m for growing businesses.
