The great and good of the East Midlands Corporate Finance community descended upon Stanton-on-the-Wolds Golf Club on a rare sunny day in early April for a little light exercise and friendly competition. This was Catapult's inaugural golf day and for many it was not only the first corporate golf day of the year, but a welcome relief from the pre 5 April deal rush.

There were some interesting shots during the day, not least at the short par 3 10th, where the compulsory use of a Driver for the tee shot resulted in some creativity, imagination, skill and in some cases quite dangerous (although very humorous) play – mentioning no names Mr James!!

 Hopefully everyone enjoyed the day, the main prize winners were the team led by our very own Ray Harris and included Gareth John (HBJ Gateley Wareing) and Neil Wade (Co-Op Bank). Elsewhere, Steve Stout's (HSBC) Jim Furyk impersonation stood him in good stead to take the individual prize amongst some stiff competition.

. . . and so on to next year when the competition takes on a new twist, with the chance to join the golfing greats and win MAJOR acclaim . . .
